

2) The second condition is necessary because it is another way to check this method. If the stack is not empty, then there is an unbalance; an empty stack means there is balance.